Jets Aid Marine Move To Clamp Vice on Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines called today for heavy blows from the skies to cut off Communist escape routes on the seventh day of Operation Harvest Moon 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. jets scared the ground with napalm after the elusive Communists fired on U.S. Marine helicopters lifting a Leatherneck infantry unit into blocking positions to prevent the flight of elements of the big Communist force by river.

As the massive U.S.-Vietnamese sweep south of Da Nang attempted to tighten the vice,

U.S. Air Force B52s pounded suspected Communist positions for the third straight day, blasting huge craters in the river valley battleground.

"Beautiful," exclaimed the commander of the Marine task force, Brig. Gen. Jonas Platt, as the aerial barrage rained down on targets near the town of Viet An, 3 1/2 miles south of Da Nang.

While the Communists played hide-and-seek with several thousand Leathernecks and Vietnamese troops, helicopters carried Marines from Viet An to lookouts over the Chang River to overtake Viet Cong trying to escape to Laos.

The airlift drew bullets from across the river, but the Marines retaliated with artillery, mortars and an air assault that sent up huge balls of fire over the valley.

Marine officers said the air blows halted movement across the river and estimated their bag of enemy dead in the week-long operation at 600, although only 127 bodies were reported counted.

Vietnamese units claimed 570 of the enemy died in their sector, bringing to nearly 1,200 the total of claimed enemy dead.

The Marines said their overall losses were light, although one Leatherneck company was hit hard in a helicopter landing last week.

In Washington, a Pentagon list of U.S. casualties issued Monday showed 27 Marine deaths in recent fighting. The exact period for the toll was not announced, but it obviously included losses in the Harvest Moon operation.

Vietnamese forces took heavy casualties at the start of the operation when an elite ranger battalion was virtually wiped out and a rescue column badly mauled.

Radio Hanoi claimed a victory for the Communists, declaring that the Viet Cong had killed, wounded or captured 1,050 men, including 20 Americans, in the initial action last Wednesday and Thursday.

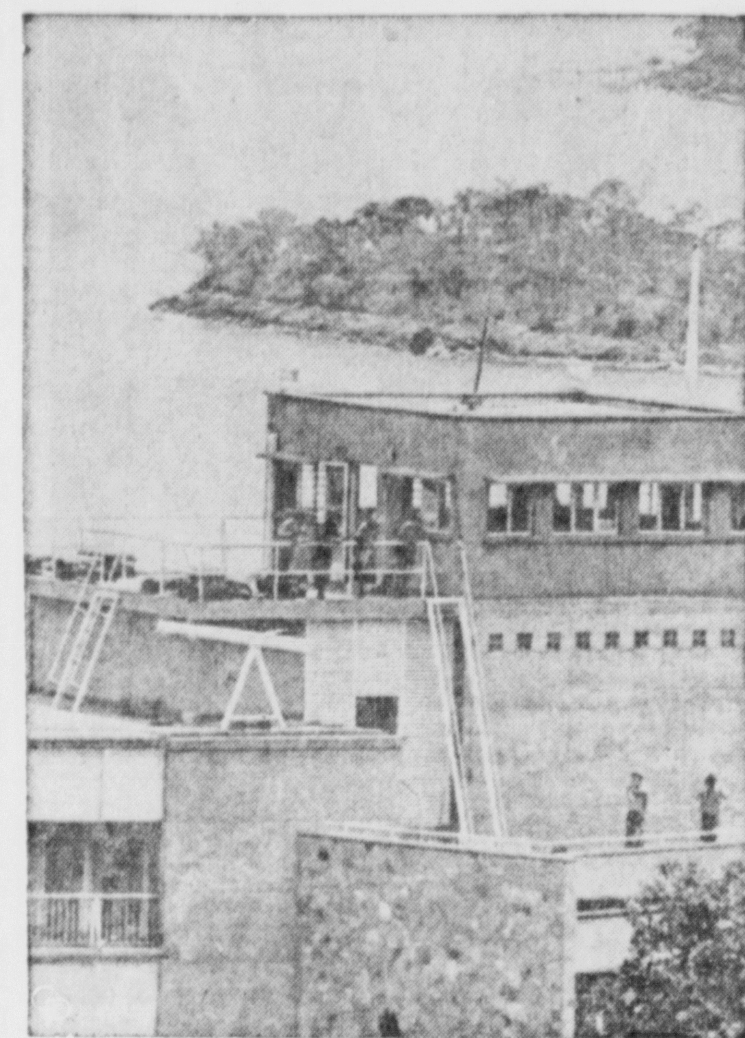

In another sector of "Death Valley," the Marine name for the 20-mile-long battleground, Viet Cong troops aimed small-arms fire at a Marine platoon and fled. They were presumed to be part of a Viet Cong force believed to total up to 3,700 hard-core fighters which Operation Harvest Moon aimed at wiping out.

8 Missing Peace Corpsmen Found

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Eight Peace Corps trainees lost in the Manzano Mountains of central New Mexico came through because "these are bright and resourceful people."

That was the way the four men and four women were described by Dr. David Benedetti, head of the Peace Corps Center at the University of New Mexico.

They were found Monday after five days in rain and snow and subfreezing temperatures — at one time down to 15 degrees. Dr. Benedetti sent them back to class today. They are in their ninth week of training to be volunteers in Chile.

The deadline for filing campaign expenditure lists with the Pickaway County Board of Elections concerning the November general election is Friday.

Space Medic Missing on Plane Flight

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A massive air search was organized today for a plane carrying the U.S. director of space medicine missing since Sunday on a flight over the rugged mountains of Colorado and New Mexico.

Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, 57; his wife, Mary, 53, and pilot Milton Brown, 27, Albuquerque, left Aspen, Colo., en route to Albuquerque about 12:30 p. m. Sunday and haven't been heard from since. The flight would take about two hours.

The twin-engine plane was not missed until Monday, largely because Lovelace's many interests frequently kept him out of town.

"I think we're going to find him," predicted a hopeful associate at the Lovelace Clinic in Albuquerque.

Planes from California to Florida were gathered for the search.

School Levy Vote Recount Is Requested

Requests for a recount of votes cast last Tuesday by Logan Elm voters in a special election for an operating levy have been filed with the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

The recount of all precincts in the school district will begin 7 p. m. tomorrow in the elections board offices. A deposit of $80 was made with the board for a recount of all eight precincts.

A special election was conducted last Tuesday in the school district in efforts to pass a 4-mill levy for operating funds. The issue also failed to get the simple majority of the voters' nod at the polls on Nov. 2.

Last Tuesday the levy was defeated by only six votes. However, a board spokesman indicated today, that only three votes would be necessary to pass the issue. Explaining further, the official noted that three votes previously counted as negative would have to be moved to the affirmative side of the tally sheets. A majority of 55 per cent was necessary for passage, but only 54.7 per cent was gained.

RESULTS of the counting last week showed 506 votes in favor of the 4-mill levy with 419 in opposition.

A previously announced special meeting of the Logan Elm School Board for last night was postponed until after the recount of votes tomorrow.

U.S. Wartime Economic Speed Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem of how to control a speeding economy in wartime has emerged as a key issue in a congressional probe of the Federal Reserve Board's decision to raise interest rates.

The Senate-House Economic Committee resumes the inquiry today after getting into a discussion of possible other weapons against inflation. Board members have cited the danger of inflation as a major reason for the board's action raising the discount rate, the basic element in determining interest rates on money lent by the Federal Reserve to banks, from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

Some of these other anti-inflation weapons, mentioned Monday in day-long questioning of the board's chairman, William McChesney Martin Jr., and four of the other six board members, were controls on consumer time payments or tightening reserve requirements on certain kinds of high-interest bank deposits.

The committee had planned to take today off but Martin was asked to return when the committee finished Monday's lengthy session with several members still waiting to ask more questions.

He refused to say whether the board has any further actions in mind that would affect interest rates, arguing that he can never make predictions without setting off disturbances in the money market.

Select Guard Unit Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard Bureau predicted today that the new 150,000-man "selected force" of Army National Guardsmen and Reservists will be fully ready to back up the regular Army for crisis duty by June 30.

"There is no question in my mind that we are going to meet the eight-week goal by June 30," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson said in an interview.

Wilson referred to the objective of having the "selected force" in shape to deploy within eight weeks of mobilization.

This could be significant from the point of view of how the selected force might fit into any long-range military buildup plans of the Defense Department related to the growing war in South Viet Nam.

Composition of the force was announced on Oct. 13. It comprises 119,000 men from the National Guard and about 31,000 from the Reserve.

The heart of the selected force is made up of three Guard divisions and six independent brigades.

Wilson told The Associated Press that Guard unit in the selected force are already built up to more than 97 per cent of their combat strength. This has been done by absorbing volunteers from lower-priority units in the Guard and from the Reserve.

Builders of the selected force have tried wherever possible to draw into its ranks trained men who have seen at least two years of active military duty.

All 50 states now are conducting expanded training for their selected force units. This represents about 24 hours of drills a month.

Some states, Wilson said, are combining three periods into three-day weekend training which permits field exercises.

The Guard Bureau is in the process of shifting equipment from low-priority, under-strength units to the selected force elements to give them the

Author Continues In Grave Condition

NICE, France (AP) — Somerset Maugham's doctors reported a slight improvement in the aged British author's condition today but said it "remains very grave."

Maugham, 91, has been in a coma since he had a stroke Saturday. His chief physician said Sunday night he didn't think he had more than 24 hours to live.

A medical bulletin issued this morning said lung congestion which had developed had disappeared and Maugham's fever had fallen.

Maugham was placed under an oxygen tent Monday night.

required level of gear for training.

For the first time, Guard units will undergo their annual field training starting in the winter, rather than waiting for the traditional summer training period.

Some units will be taking two weeks of annual training as early as February, and the whole selected force is expected to have that training under its belt by June 30.

GI Bill Seen For Viet Vets

Texan Predicts OK in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Olin E. Teague, the father of the GI Bill of Rights for Korean War veterans, predicted today early approval of a new bill which would grant similar benefits to American fighting men in Viet Nam.

Teague, a Texas Democrat who heads the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, said in a telephone interview from Waxahatchie, Tex., he expected Congress to pass by the end of February a bill extending education and home-buying benefits to veterans of more than 180 days' active duty since 1955.

Such a bill already has been approved by the Senate.

He said he hopes the Johnson administration will retreat from its opposition to the measure when his committee resumes hearings next month on the measure.

"There is reason to believe they have changed their views," Teague added, noting that conferences have been under way in Washington to ease administration objections. "We want to try to pass something they can live with," he said.

Explaining why the administration opposes the bill, Teague said: "Money is the whole thing." He estimated the bill would cost several hundred million dollars in the first year.

Like the previous bills which helped millions of World War II veterans go to college and buy homes, the new bill would pay college or vocational school expenses and guarantee loans for purchase of homes, farms and farm equipment for veterans with more than 180 days' active service since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean GI bill expired.

Maximum education payments would be $160 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents for up to 36 months. Maximum guarantees of home purchase loans would be $7,500 for commercial loans and $15,000 for residential loans.

Ygor Is Brainwashed

Psychiatrist Ends Dog's Yen for Chasing Cats

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A cat raced across the sidewalk in front of D'Ors Prince Ygor, Barbara Singleton's platinum-blond Russian wolfhound.

Ygor started to bolt after the cat. Miss Singleton, a pretty television model, clinked a chain in her hand and spoke: "Come, Ygor."

Ygor halted as if thunder-struck. "Heel!" said Miss Singleton. Ygor trotted obediently to her side and they walked on.

Ygor has never been to dog-training school. That's passed, these days, in the Beverly Hills West Los Angeles environment of culturally enriched dog. The secret of his instant obedience?

Like 300 other elite canines, Ygor has had psychotherapy. He was a patient of Dr. Dare Miller, who describes himself as

Los Angeles' only dog psychologist.

"He is really so much better since he has had help," said Miss Singleton.

Dr. Miller treats dogs the way movie villains sometimes deal with captured counterespies: he brainwashes them, then shapes their will with conditioned response.

"In five minutes," said Dr. Miller, 38, "I can teach a strange dog to come to me on command."

Miller's methods differ from those of traditional dog trainers in their psychological approach: no punishment, no negative commands, and a conditioning technique on which he holds a copyright.

A chain — the sort Barbara Singleton clinked to halt her bolting Borzoi — does the trick. The chain is made of a special bronze-phosphorous alloy. Hanging on it is a tiny tuning fork.

Dr. Miller said: "The fork and the chain, when rattled, vibrate at 34,000 cycles per second, in the uppermost range of a dog's hearing. It doesn't hurt his ears; it just interrupts anything the dog is thinking."

"If the dog is going to do something bad, it changes his mind."

"If you give the dog a command simultaneously with the clink of the chain, the command is impressed in the dog's thinking, and on his memory."

"By repeating the process, the dog can eventually be taught to respond to the owner's word alone, without the chain."

68-Day Test In Helium Completed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — While Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. orbited toward a record of 14 days in space, four Air Force officers Monday ended a 68-day simulated space trip testing helium for possible future space cabin use.

Each of the four was decorated with the Air Force commendation medal as he emerged smilingly from a space chamber at the School of Aerospace Medicine, Brooks Air Force Base.

The men entered the cylindrical space chamber Oct. 4, and Oct. 13 "went up" from the familiar atmosphere of about 20 per cent oxygen and 80 per cent nitrogen to an atmosphere of 70 per cent oxygen and 30 per cent helium at about a third sea-level pressure.

Five days ago they returned to ground level conditions, but remained in the chamber for comparison studies.

'Who Is Rousselot?'

GOP Anti-Extremism Is Aimed at Birchers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie says Republican chieftains were talking about the John Birch Society when they rejected 'extremist organizations' — but named no names.

Smylie spoke out after a Birch Society leader praised Monday's resolution in which the Republican Coordinating Committee said party members should "reject membership in any radical or extremist organization."

John Rousselot, the Birch Society public relations man, said the coordinating committee acted wisely in dealing with the question of extremism.

"We're pleased they have taken this stand," he said.

"Who is Rousselot?" asked Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

"If John Rousselot endorsed this statement," House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said, "I have grave doubts that he fully understood the import of it."

Smylie put it this way in an interview:

"To us, the resolution that was adopted means the John Birch Society is an extreme and radical organization."

Smylie said he told the committee its five governor-members interpreted the resolution that way. He said no one at the closed-door committee session objected to that reading.

"We had the Birch Society in mind," said Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

The GOP policymaking council also urged President Johnson to set up around North Viet Nam the kind of naval quarantine President John F. Kennedy once used against Cuba.

The committee recommended "maximum use of American conventional air and sea power against significant military targets" in the Communist North.

"Under our present policy in Viet Nam," the coordinating committee said, "there is a growing danger that the United States is becoming involved in an endless Korean-type jungle war."

"Since it appears that the major portion of North Vietnamese military supplies arrive by sea," it added, "our first objective should be to impose a Kennedy-type quarantine on North Viet Nam."

School Levy Vote Recount Is Requested

Requests for a recount of votes cast last Tuesday by Logan Elm voters in a special election for an operating levy have been filed with the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

The recount of all precincts in the school district will begin 7 p. m. tomorrow in the elections board offices. A deposit of $80 was made with the board for a recount of all eight precincts.

A special election was conducted last Tuesday in the school district in efforts to pass a 4-mill levy for operating funds. The issue also failed to get the simple majority of the voters' nod at the polls on Nov. 2.

Explaining further, the official noted that three votes previously counted as negative would have to be moved to the affirmative side of the tally sheets. A majority of 55 per cent was necessary for passage, but only 54.7 per cent was gained.

RESULTS of the counting last week showed 506 votes in favor of the 4-mill levy with 419 in opposition.

A previously announced special meeting of the Logan Elm School Board for last night was postponed until after the recount of votes tomorrow.

U.S. Wartime Economic Speed Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem of how to control a speeding economy in wartime has emerged as a key issue in a congressional probe of the Federal Reserve Board's decision to raise interest rates.

Board members have cited the danger of inflation as a major reason for the board's action raising the discount rate, the basic element in determining interest rates on money lent by the Federal Reserve to banks, from 4 to 4½ per cent.

Some of these other anti-inflation weapons, mentioned Monday in day-long questioning of the board's chairman, William McChesney Martin Jr., and four of the other six board members, were controls on consumer time payments or tightening reserve requirements on certain kinds of high-interest bank deposits.

The committee had planned to take today off but Martin was asked to return when the committee finished Monday's lengthy session with several members still waiting to ask more questions.

He refused to say whether the board has any further actions in mind that would affect interest rates, arguing that he can never make predictions without setting off disturbances in the money market.

Select Guard Unit Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard Bureau predicted today that the new 150,000-man "selected force" of Army National Guardsmen and Reservists will be fully ready to back up the regular Army for crisis duty by June 30.

"There is no question in my mind that we are going to meet the eight-week goal by June 30," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson said in an interview.

Wilson told The Associated Press that Guard unit in the selected force are already built up to more than 97 per cent of their combat strength. This has been done by absorbing volunteers from lower-priority units in the Guard and from the Reserve.

Builders of the selected force have tried wherever possible to draw into its ranks trained men who have seen at least two years of active military duty.

All 50 states now are conducting expanded training for their selected force units. This represents about 24 hours of drills a month.

Some states, Wilson said, are combining three periods into three-day weekend training which permits field exercises.

The Guard Bureau is in the process of shifting equipment from low-priority, understrength units to the selected force elements to give them the

Author Continues In Grave Condition

NICE, France (AP) — Somerset Maugham's doctors reported a slight improvement in the aged British author's condition today but said it "remains very grave."

Maugham, 91, has been in a coma since he had a stroke Saturday. His chief physician said Sunday night he didn't think he had more than 24 hours to live.

A medical bulletin issued this morning said lung congestion which had developed had disappeared and Maugham's fever had fallen.

Maugham was placed under an oxygen tent Monday night.

Ygor Is Brainwashed

Psychiatrist Ends Dog's Yen for Chasing Cats

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A cat raced across the sidewalk in front of D'ors Prince Ygor, Barbara Singleton's platinum-blond Russian wolfhound.

Ygor started to bolt after the cat. Miss Singleton, a pretty television model, clinked a chain in her hand and spoke: "Come, Ygor."

Ygor halted as if thunder-struck. "Heel!" said Miss Singleton. Ygor trotted obediently to her side and they walked on.

Ygor has never been to dog-training school. That's passed, these days, in the Beverly Hills West Los Angeles environment of culturally enriched dog.

Like 300 other elite canines, Ygor has had psychotherapy. He was a patient of Dr. Dare Miller, who describes himself as required level of gear for training.

For the first time, Guard units will undergo their annual field training starting in the winter, rather than waiting for the traditional summer training period.

Some units will be taking two weeks of annual training as early as February, and the whole selected force is expected to have that training under its belt by June 30.

GI Bill Seen For Viet Vets

Texan Predicts OK in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Olin E. Teague, the father of the GI Bill of Rights for Korean War veterans, predicted today early approval of a new bill which would grant similar benefits to American fighting men in Viet Nam.

Teague, a Texas Democrat who heads the House Veterans Affairs Committee, said in a telephone interview from Waxahatchie, Tex., he expected Congress to pass by the end of February a bill extending education and home-buying benefits to veterans of more than 180 days' active duty since 1955.

Such a bill already has been approved by the Senate.

He said he hopes the Johnson administration will retreat from its opposition to the measure when his committee resumes hearings next month on the measure.

"There is reason to believe they have changed their views," Teague added, noting that conferences have been under way in Washington to ease administration objections. "We want to try to pass something they can live with," he said.

Explaining why the administration opposes the bill, Teague said: "Money is the whole thing." He estimated the bill would cost several hundred million dollars in the first year.

Like the previous bills which helped millions of World War II veterans go to college and buy homes, the new bill would pay college or vocational school expenses and guarantee loans for purchase of homes, farms and farm equipment for veterans with more than 180 days' active service since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean GI bill expired.

Maximum education payments would be $160 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents for up to 36 months. Maximum guarantees of home purchase loans would be $7,500 for commercial loans and $15,000 for residential loans.

1 to 2-Inch Fall Forecast

Western Plains Get Heavy Blanket

By THE ASSOCIATE PRESS

The first statewide snowfall of the season is predicted for Ohio tonight and Wednesday. An accumulation of one to two inches is possible.

While this would be old stuff for Northeastern Ohio, where accumulations already have totaled nearly two feet, it would be the first white blanket to cover the entire state.

Farther west in the nation, a heavy white blanket already is forming.

North winds whipped temperatures down to the teens in the Western Plains today and heavy snow hit parts of Kansas and Nebraska.

Nearly a foot of snow piled up in Larned, Kan., as the storm centered in western and central Kansas. Six to seven inches buried a rural area in the northwestern part of the state.

Denver, Colo., recorded two inches of new snow. Caspe, Wyo., and Goodland, Kan., also picked up two inches of snow in six hours.

In the East, New Jersey, in a period from Saturday through Monday, had up to an inch of rain. It was the greatest fall in the water-short state since Oct. 7 when 1.37 inches fell in Newark.

Heavy rains spread through Texas. Victoria measured 1.26 inches in six hours this morning.

In the morning, grey skies shrouded the sun in nearly every city in the nation. Minimum temperatures included 2 above zero in Cut Bank, Mont., and 5 above in Lander, Wyo. Key West, Fla., had a pleasant 72 degrees.

Flurries, light snow and drizzle fell from the Great Lakes to New England.

Another weather disturbance over southern Texas and Louisiana produced rain.

In the Middle Atlantic and central Gulf coastal regions, travel was impeded by heavy nighttime fog. There was some light fog in upstate New York where drizzle was the rule. Skies cleared on the West Coast after western Washington experienced the season's first snow Monday.

Electrical and phone repairmen still were busy restoring service for 3,400 families in southeastern North Dakota after a sleet storm snapped wires and downed about 2,500 poles in the Dakotas during the weekend.

Sitin Cure Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director said today that "reclassification is quicker at stopping sitins than some indictment that takes effect six months later."

'Who Is Rousselot?'

GOP Anti-Extremism Is Aimed at Birchers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie says Republican chiefs were talking about the John Birch Society when they rejected extremist organizations — but named no names.

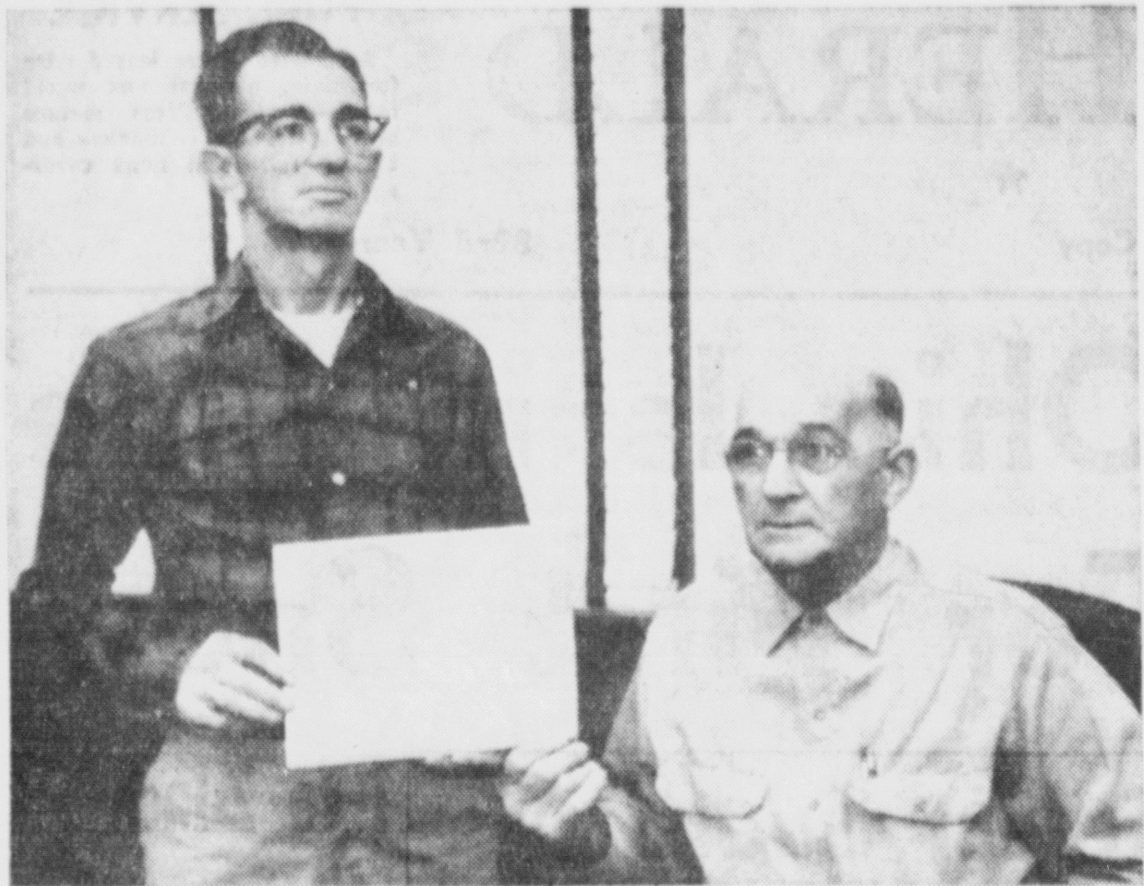

Smylie spoke out after a Birch Society leader praised Monday's resolution in which the Republican Coordinating Committee said party members should "reject membership in any radical or extremist organization."

John Rousselot, the Birch Society public relations man, said the coordinating committee acted wisely in dealing with the question of extremism.

"We're pleased they have taken this stand," he said.

"Who is Rousselot?" asked Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Area Farmer Sentenced in Shooting Case

An Ashville area farmer was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary today for shooting a Kentucky man last spring.

Walter Cummins, Route 2, Ashville, was handed a 1-20 year sentence by Judge William Ammer after a jury last Tuesday found him guilty of shooting with intent to wound. Judge Ammer noted the sentence would be served at "hard labor."

Cummins was indicted by the September term of the Grand Jury for shooting John Bayes, Willard, Ky., during a dispute over a load of hay at the Cummins farm. Bayes was shot in the left leg and hospitalized for several days.

John Sentz and William Huston, Columbus attorneys, represented Cummins in the criminal matter. Prosecuting Attorney Robert Huffer handled the case for the State of Ohio.

Two Handed Prison Terms For Assault

Two Circleville men have been sentenced to separate penal institutions by Judge William Ammer after being convicted on assault charges.

A three - judge court heard evidence yesterday in the case against Charles Zickfoose while Delbert Giffin had previously entered pleas of guilty to forcible entry and assault with the intent to rob.

Both men were involved in an incident at the home of George Arledge, Cottage Hill. They were indicted by the September term of the Grand Jury.

The tribunal yesterday found Zickfoose innocent of the forcible entry charge, but returned a verdict of guilty in the assault accusation.

Zickfoose was sentenced yesterday to the Ohio State Penitentiary for a period of 1-15 years. Giffin, who testified during the trial yesterday, was sentenced today by Judge Ammer.

The first charge of forcible entry of an inhabited dwelling was dropped by the court and Giffin was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory for 1-15 years.

Hearing evidence in Zickfoose's case were Judges William Ammer, Howard Goldsberry and R. Tague. He was represented by Richard W. Penn and Charles Hosterman.

Plat Okayed By Board

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners yesterday, during their regular weekly meeting, approved a plat submitted by a Washington Twp. couple.

Asking for the approval were Charles and Sarah Pugsley. The plat, as submitted, contains three lots of slightly more than one-half acre each.

The area, to be known as Pugsley's Country Club Allotments, is located on the Bolender-Pontion Road in Washington Twp.

The commission spent most of the day in paying monthly bills, according to Board Clerk Mrs. Geneva Brink.

Two Handed Prison Terms For Assault

Two Circleville men have been sentenced to separate penal institutions by Judge William Ammer after being convicted on assault charges.

A three - judge court heard evidence yesterday in the case against Charles Zickafoose while Delbert Giffin had previously entered pleas of guilty to forcible entry and assault with the intent to rob.

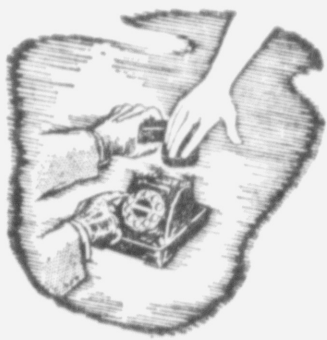

Both men were involved in an incident at the home of George Arledge, Cottage Hill. They were indicted by the September term of the Grand Jury.

The tribunal yesterday found Zickafoose innocent of the forcible entry charge, but returned a verdict of guilty in the assault accusation.

Zickafoose was sentenced yesterday to the Ohio State Penitentiary for a period of 1-15 years. Giffin, who testified during the trial yesterday, was sentenced today by Judge Ammer.

The first charge of forcible entry of an inhabited dwelling was dropped by the court and Giffin was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory for 1-15 years.

Hearing evidence in Zickafoose's case were Judges William Ammer, Howard Goldsberry and R. Tague. He was represented by Richard W. Pern and Charles Hosterman.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. had a room at the top, or near it, as special assistant to President John F. Kennedy. Now he has another room at the top, an office on the third floor of an old three-story building here.

There in 14 months, turning out on his working days 2,000 to 4,000 words a day, he wrote his best-selling, 1,087-page book — "A Thousand Days" — on the Kennedy administration. It has been criticized for revealing too much; it has been highly praised.

For years it probably will remain the best book on the Kennedy days. It is not the final word; he didn't pretend it was. It is not totally objective, far from it. It bulges with adoration of Kennedy. But Schlesinger frankly said in his first sentence the book was a personal memoir.

Schlesinger, 48, is one of the most read historians this country has produced. His books are full of people moving with events or causing them. In 1945 he won the Pulitzer Prize for his "A Thousand Days." In the 1950s he turned out three superb books on the New Deal.

Now he expects to finish that job over the next 8 to 10 years with three or four more books on the New Deal period. They will be full of people, too. How did he come to write that way? What goes into shaping an historian? Asked those questions in an interview, he gave these answers:

G. A. Henty's romantic histories for boys began his interest in history. The first big influence was his father, Arthur M. Schlesinger Sr., a distinguished historian who recently died at 77. From his father he got the realization of constant change in history and that it was "something more than past politics."

These were some of the other influences, all historians except one:

Francis Parkman (1823-1893) — "I was entranced by his narrative skill." Charles Beard (1874-1948) — "His interpretations stimulated me," although Schlesinger thinks, in general, they were wrong. Henry Adams (1838-1918) — "He had one absolutely indispensable quality for an historian — the gift of irony." And Reinhold Niebuhr, Protestant theologian and writ-

General Tire Plans Plant In Carolina

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Availability of good transportation and "an attractive labor climate" were two reasons cited by the General Tire & Rubber Co. in announcing plans Monday for a $15-million tire manufacturing plant at Charlotte N.C.

"There are many reasons why we decided on this location," said M. G. O'Neil, General president. "It has an attractive labor climate. It offers adequate water, power and gas resources. It has excellent transportation facilities. It is highly accessible to the major, growing tire markets of the southeast and south. It has ample land for expansion and, finally, it best supplements our present and planned plant locations."

The plant will employ 1,000 persons when peak production is reached, the announcement said.

Yugoslav Leaders Ponder Generation of Beatniks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — After 20 years of communism, Yugoslavia is making the painful discovery that it has a generation of beatniks on its hands.

Stealing cars for thrills — and often smashing them up for extra kicks — has become a fad among Yugoslavia's swinging youth.

Beatle hairdos are the rage. Youngsters fill the night clubs. They snap up the latest record imports from the West, couldn't care less about socialist preachings, and generally carry on like young people revolting against the establishment.

Parents despair, newspapers denounce and legislators make tougher laws. Despite everything, Yugoslavia's youngsters insist on going their own way. Imitation by Yugoslav youth of their Western counterparts began several years ago, when Britain's Teddy boys were much imitated here.

As prosperity increased and Yugoslavia moved ever further away from the strict conduct of conventional communism, the youthful trend toward independence spread.

The country has never seen anything, however, like the car theft fad. Hundreds have been stolen in recent months by youngsters who take them for joy rides, abandon them after a day or so or smash them into trees.

Thrill thefts have become so numerous that the Belgrade Politika Ekspres has started a free column of missing-car announcements for unlucky owners trying to trace their stolen machines.

Until recently, youngsters who stole cars for thrills were dealt with as juvenile delinquents. Parliament has altered the law to make car thefts a criminal offense, with sentences of up to six months in prison.

What astonishes older people is that many of the teen-agers involved are the children of company directors, officials and other well-to-do citizens.

A current issue of a Belgrade satirical weekly cartoons two shaggy-haired youths eyeing a parked Mercedes Benz.

"Let's not steal that one," says one of the boys. "It belongs to my dad."

A boat of ancient design is still used by Welsh fishermen to net salmon from the swift waters of the River Teifi. Their craft, a coracle, consists of a wicker frame covered with pitch-smear calico.

er still alive — Schlesinger found in him the "relationship of the hero in history, the individual against determinism."

Schlesinger disagrees with Leo Tolstoy's view which he described as looking upon "people as leaves blown by the winds of history." His own theory is that the "individual has much more of a role than Tolstoy gave him, and he has choices."

Unlike historians writing of the past, with no one of that era left alive to talk to, Schlesinger, writing of recent history, looks for people who took part in it. He talked about 100 on the New Deal books, about the same number on the Kennedy book.

This was in addition to all the research, which he does himself. He can read a book at the rate of about 125 to 200 pages an hour. But perhaps no other historian alive ever stops for the same kind of refreshment Schlesinger needs. He reads poetry.

"Sometimes in writing I try to get out of the blur of rhetoric to remind myself how words should be used. I stop writing and read poetry, particularly William Butler Yeats." Sometimes he reads Walt Whitman.

Yeats, he says, "has simplicity and gravity and a diction very simple. His words have inevitability and he has rhythm." He says "Yeats stimulates one's sense of precision in language, Whitman stimulates the imagination."

Motorists Exonerated

The American motorist, long charged with responsibility for disfiguring the landscape, has been exonerated. Keep America Beautiful, the organization that pursues the noble task of combating litter, says most of it is tossed out by local residents.

KAB's survey finds they account for 78 per cent of the trash discarded along highways and city streets.

While it clears the tourist of an unjust accusation, the KAB report brings no closer an answer to the basic question, which is why so many Americans have such slovenly public habits.

Fining violators of antilitter laws has achieved only limited success. A more promising measure coming into favor in some states is to sentence flagrant offenders to clearing the debris from stretches of beaches and highways, thus making the punishment fit the crime.

But punishment isn't enough. Persistent educational effort will also be needed to persuade the careless to mend their ways. KAB has a long — and littered — road ahead.

Indians Could Take Over Again

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Paleface, beware: The U.S. Indian population has risen from 240,000 in 1900 to more than 525,000. Their birthrate is nearly double that of the rest of the country—22.4 per 100,000. At this rate the Indians may take over America again — in 1,000 years.

If science were able to build a machine to duplicate the functioning of a housewife's three-pound human brain, it would be about the size of the Empire State Building—and require as much power as Niagara Falls produces to operate it.

Nurses had it tougher in the previous century. In addition to washing patients, they were also expected to wash the hospital windows at least once a week.

U.S. universities graduated 4,314 Ph.D.s in the sciences in 1951 and turned out 7,597 last year.

College no longer can be described as a four-year loaf on father's dough. Studies show that 65 per cent of American college men work to pay at least part of their educational expenses.

Safety hint: There is no doubt that it is more dangerous to drive on Saturday and Sunday. Insurance statistics in 1964 disclosed that almost half of all traffic disasters occurred on weekend.

If a truck driver approaching you holds up his fingers in the old V-for-victory signal, you'd better brake your speed. That's his friendly way of letting you know police are up ahead.

A new camera for missile tests has been developed that is so sensitive it can pick up the flight of a baseball batted 15 miles away.

The name Potomac for the river which flows past the nation's capital, comes from an Algonquin Indian term meaning "trading place"—a bit of history which politicians who still trade votes there probably never knew.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "The trouble with most folks isn't so much their ignorance, as knowing so many things that ain't so."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — A splatter of rising economic statistics and glowing predictions for 1966 form the background for the Senate-House Economics Committee investigation of the Federal Reserve Board's interest rate increase.

While Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. was explaining why he thought the hike was needed to keep the economic upswing moderate and safe, government officials and corporate executives were busily painting a picture of bigger and better things in the year ahead.

Administration spokesmen say that the tightening of money isn't needed to hold the expansion in line and might even cause it to stumble. They contend that the statistics they are releasing now, and the predictions for further gains in 1966 are still well within the limits of moderation — and below the boom-bust danger line.

The latest flood of figures include:

Construction spending will increase by 6 per cent, compared with a 4 per cent gain this year. There Commerce Department says higher costs accounted for most of this year's gain over 1964, but that higher price will play a much smaller role in next year's larger rise. The department puts this year's spending at a record $68.5 billion and estimates 1966 outlays at $72.7 billion. Private construction accounted for $47.9 billion of the total this year and should grow to $50.3 billion in 1966.

in plant and equipment by business, the prediction is for a 13.5 per cent rise in 1966 to $58.8 billion, from this year's record of $51.8 billion. The estimate is based on a government survey in late October and November of business intentions.

In the here and now, the Commerce Department reports that retail sales hit a seasonally adjusted record of $24 billion in November, up 11 per cent from last year. Current reports from merchants around the nation indicate that December sales are topping this easily as consumers spend freely and buy more expensive articles.

Nonfarm payrolls also have risen to a record for the 13th month in a row. The Labor Department puts the November total at 61.8 million. This is 2.4 million higher than a year ago.

The average factory workweek was 41.4 hours, the highest November level in 21 years. And the average weekly pay was a record $109.30, or $5 more than a year ago.

Car and truck sales, including imports, are now estimated at 10.8 million this year, up 13 per cent from 1964. And industry spokesmen are predicting that sales next year should be at or above this year's record.

The steel industry, which has been having its private slowdown since the early September reaching of a labor contract, reports that at last some of its customers are through living off the stock they built up as a hedge against a strike threat. New orders, especially from the construction and railroad customers, are coming in briskly. January shipments could well be larger than estimated earlier.

Predictions of even better business ahead also are beginning to pour in now from leaders in many other industries.

Will higher interest rates put a brake on this? Or will they keep things rolling smoothly? That's what the congressional investigators are trying to find out.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLMAN, M.D.

My daughter, now 23 years of age, had attacks of epilepsy throughout her childhood. During her adolescence the attacks occurred rarely because of continual use of special medicines.

She made a remarkable social adjustment all through college where she had a brilliant record.

About six weeks ago she had her first epileptic seizure in four years, while at work in a rather new job. Since then she is aware of a change of attitude by her employers and by her co-workers.

She says she feels as if her presence disturbs them. They are kind, but seem distant to her. There must be hundreds of other children who are handicapped by their latent epilepsy. Can you help us and them for a better understanding of epilepsy?

Mrs. R. B. Nevada

Dear Mrs. B.: Your daughter and hundreds of thousands of other victims of epilepsy have made happy adjustments to their social lives. They attend universities, attain high levels of accomplishment, make brilliant records, as your daughter did, and become happy healthy members of society. They become the parents of healthy children and live as serviceable and productive people.

They and their families know all about epilepsy and its emotional overtones. For those who know little about it, I will describe it.

Epilepsy is a brain disorder that results in a seizure, fit or convulsion. There are basically two types. One, the petit mal, meaning "small seizure," is a condition that starts in early childhood and seldom continues past adolescence. Grand mal, or "greater seizure," which I gather is what your daughter has, is the second and more serious disorder.

About 90 per cent of all convulsive seizures of both petit mal and grand mal can now be controlled by adequate and sustained drugs. These medicines are called anti-convulsants and are a great source of satisfaction to patients and to their doctors.

The exact cause of epilepsy is yet unknown. Epilepsy is diagnosed by a brain wave test, the electroencephalogram. Performed painlessly, this EEG shows disturbances of the normal brain wave pattern.

Unfortunately, your daughter and her co-workers were not prepared for witnessing an epileptic seizure. Even to those who are emotionally well-controlled, a convulsion is a terrifying experience, especially when they are not ready for it.

People with epilepsy can often tell in advance when an attack is coming on. If their friends and co-workers know about it, they, too, can quickly prepare to be of maximum help and comfort.

There is no shame or stigma in epilepsy. These courageous people must be encouraged to speak about their difficulty rather than to hide it.

Your daughter must be helped to realize that her employers and friends have not changed their affection for her.

When she openly speaks about epilepsy, she will once again be completely enveloped by the devotion she deserves.

British automotive sportsman R. R. C. Walker knows cars, but one thing he didn't know was how quiet the '66 Ford is.

"1966 Ford quieter than my Jaguar? Not jolly likely!" said Rob Walker

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently demonstrated the 1966 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses the '66 Ford LTD with Rob Walker at his family's estate in Wiltshire, England.

Ford's quiet ride is the result of built-in quality and overall engineering excellence. Other examples of this engineering magic from Ford are: ■ New Stereo Tape Player option with easy-loading cartridges. ■ New Magic Doorgate on wagons—swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo. ■ Silent-Flo Ventilation, standard on Ford 4-door hardtops, gives open-window freshness with all windows closed. ■ Quiet-test a '66 Ford, at your Ford Dealer's.

Willard Wirtz wants to help a company like Barber - Colman in its own apprentice program, he might better work to relax the $1.80 hourly minimum wage where it pertains to kids just out of high school. The average

Motorists Exonerated

The American motorist, long charged with responsibility for disfiguring the landscape, has been exonerated. Keep America Beautiful, the organization that pursues the noble task of combating litter, says most of it is tossed out by local residents.

KAB's survey finds they account for 78 per cent of the trash discarded along highways and city streets.

While it clears the tourist of an unjust accusation, the KAB report brings no closer an answer to the basic question, which is why so many Americans have such slovenly public habits.

Fining violators of antilitter laws has achieved only limited success. A more promising measure coming into favor in some states is to sentence flagrant offenders to clearing the debris from stretches of beaches and highways, thus making the punishment fit the crime.

But punishment isn't enough. Persistent educational effort will also be needed to persuade the careless to mend their ways. KAB has a long — and littered — road ahead.

Indians Could Take Over Again

Paleface, beware: The U.S. Indian population has risen from 240,000 in 1900 to more than 525,000. Their birthrate is nearly double that of the rest of the country—22.4 per 100,000. At this rate the Indians may take over America again — in 1,000 years.

If science were able to build a machine to duplicate the functioning of a housewife's three-pound human brain, it would be about the size of the Empire State Building—and require as much power as Niagara Falls produces to operate it.

Nurses had it tougher in the previous century. In addition to washing patients, they were also expected to wash the hospital windows at least once a week.

U.S. universities graduated 4,314 Ph.D.s in the sciences in 1951 and turned out 7,597 last year. College no longer can be described as a four-year loaf on father's dough. Studies show that 65 per cent of American college men work to pay at least part of their educational expenses.

Safety hint: There is no doubt that it is more dangerous to drive on Saturday and Sunday. Insurance statistics in 1964 disclosed that almost half of all traffic disasters occurred on weekend.

NEW YORK (AP) — A splatter of rising economic statistics and glowing predictions for 1966 form the background for the Senate-House Economics Committee investigation of the Federal Reserve Board's interest rate increase.

While Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. was explaining why he thought the hike was needed to keep the economic upswing moderate and safe, government officials and corporate executives were busy painting a picture of bigger and better things in the year ahead.

Administration spokesmen say that the tightening of money isn't needed to hold the expansion in line and might even cause it to stumble. They contend that the statistics they are releasing now, and the predictions for further gains in 1966 are still well within the limits of moderation — and below the boom-bust danger line.

The latest flood of figures include:

Construction spending will increase by 6 per cent, compared with a 4 per cent gain this year. There Commerce Department says higher costs accounted for most of this year's gain over 1964, but that higher price will play a much smaller role in next year's larger rise. The department puts this year's spending at a record $68.5 billion and estimates 1966 outlays at $72.7 billion. Private construction accounted for $47.9 billion of the total this year and should grow to $50.3 billion in 1966.

Where the Future Is Made

By John Chamberlain

ROCKFORD, Illinois—If this columnist were given to puffing "automation" advances into dire predictions of a world in which factories will have no need for human labor, he would be projecting future unemployment curves through the roof on the basis of what he has seen here. Certainly some of the experiments that are being carried on by the machine tool makers of this astounding city, an hour west of Chicago, portend vast changes in our industrial practices.

For instance, at the Ingersoll Milling Company you will be shown a machine that pares metal from a shape destined to be a die without the intervention of a professional die maker. Responding with fantastic accuracy to taped directions, the machine's cutting and grinding edge moves forward, sideways and up or down simultaneously. What this might do eventually to the die makers who are the aristocrats of the automobile manufacturing business, could be of great concern to the United Automobile Workers' Walter Reuther.

Then there is another type of machine, still in the mock-up stage, that will enable a manufacturing company to use automated production lines for batch production. One such machine destined for a European customer, would profitably adapt automation techniques to the making of as few as twenty or thirty identical products at a run. The trick, again, will involve the use of computerized taped directions, which can be shifted from day to day for various parts of the production line. If things work out, this particular development of automation will enable the small manufacturer to get the benefit of machines that are now of important labor - saving value only to the big mass industries.

It would be easy to be an alarmist about the prospect of jobs melting away as Rockford's experiments conquer the world of factory production. But Rockford itself is an example of what the employment picture could be in the world of the future. It is a town suffering from a severe labor shortage. It takes many men to design and make the machines that will put other men out of work — and the opportunities for planning the production lines of the future for big manufacturers and small all over the world promise to be virtually limitless. For a long time to come Rockford, and other places like it, should be able to absorb each and every die maker who might lose his job because of a die - shaping machine that Rockford sells. The old skills die and new skills are born.

Rockford is a remarkable community in many ways. Not so long ago U. S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz offered to help solve the community's labor problems. "We'd be delighted to work with Rockford industries," he said, "in developing on - the - job training programs." Rockford's answer to Wirtz was, in effect, to tell him to "go blow." Checking the Situation!

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those "STUPID WAITRESSES" who can't read the minds of customers to determine whether they want separate checks or not. Don't customers realize that all our checks are numbered? And when they tell us at the end of a meal that they wanted separate checks, we have to void the original check and start all over again? THIS TAKES TIME!

If some customers weren't so stupid, they could divide up the check themselves.

STUPID WAITRESS

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as another "stupid waitress," who not only can't read minds, but who can't tell when people are kidding. When cocktails are being ordered before the meal, I have been told that the party was going to be on "Old Joe." And when I presented the check to "Old Joe," I was asked if I couldn't take a joke. Then I've had to unscramble the bill and give everyone separate checks.

On other occasions, I have had the guests loudly demand, "separate checks!"—and when it came time to pay, one man will disgustedly take them all and say to me, "Where's your sense of humor? You know when I'm in the party, the party's always on me!"

DENVER

DEAR ABBY: You said, "Waitresses are not mindread-ers." So, since the waitress is the one who makes up the check, she's the one who should ask how it should be done, and not after the fact.

After all, one man did not eat all the food, so why should the waitress have the gall to assume that one man is going to pay for it? And in some cases, the waitress even takes it upon herself to decide which man should be the host.

TACOMA

DEAR ABBY: At last you have proved to me forever that no man ghost-writes your column, although on the question of restaurant checks you could have used a man's advice. No woman understands the problem as a man does. No waiter is likely to make the mistake a waitress makes in assuming the one man is picking up the check for the entire party unless he is told that he is.

A waiter always makes out separate checks for each couple in a dinner situation, as well as situations involving a group at lunch from an office or something similar. Only a waitress will do it the "easy" way and stick one man with the bill.

DETROIT

DEAR ABBY: Here is one waitress who is not as stupid as she used to be. When I first started waiting on tables, the girl told me if a lot of men came in together, to put it all ers of United Church of Christ, Mt. Sterling, provided Christmas music under the direction of Mrs. M. Heath Tadlock. Special numbers were also sung by the Trinity Lutheran Cherub Choir, Children's choir and the Youth choir. Miss Christine Zehner sang a solo, "Of the Father's Love Begotten."

Dear Abby: Checking the Situation!

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those "STUPID WAITRESSES" who can't read the minds of customers to determine whether they want separate checks or not. Don't customers realize that all our checks are numbered? And when they tell us at the end of a meal that they wanted separate checks, we have to void the original check and start all over again? THIS TAKES TIME!

If some customers were't so stupid, they could divide up the check themselves.

STUPID WAITRESS

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as another "stupid waitress," who not only can't read minds, but who can't tell when people are kidding. When cocktails are being ordered before the meal, I have been told that the party was going to be on "Old Joe." And when I presented the check to "Old Joe," I was asked if I couldn't take a joke. Then I've had to scramble the bill and give everyone separate checks.

On other occasions, I have had the guests loudly demand, "separate checks!"—and when it came time to pay, one man will disgustingly take them all and say to me, "Where's your sense of humor? You know when I'm in the party, the party's always on me!"

DENVER

DEAR ABBY: You said, "Waitresses are not mindreaders." So, since the waitress is the one who makes up the check, she's the one who should ask how it should be done, and not after the fact.

After all, one man did not eat all the food, so why should the waitress have the gall to assume that one man is going to pay for it? And in some cases, the waitress even takes it upon herself to decide which man should be the host.

on one check and give the man who looked the most successful. And if they all looked successful, to give it to the oldest man. I have learned through experience that this is a mistake. For some strange reason, the man who looks most successful is usually the one who is least able to treat the crowd. And age does not mean anything, either.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D and the passengers on the Zabbazara bus finally reach Santa Land, but the Voodoo man has already arrived and turned the elves to stone.

CHAPTER EIGHT THE TERRIBLE SPELL

"The Voodoo man has been here!" cried the little boy. "He has turned them all to stone!"

"It can't be!" cried Mr. D.

He ran into a work shop. It was the doll shop. A dozen elves sat at their work benches. They had hammers and nails and needles and thread in their hands. But the hammers did not hammer and the needles did not sew. The workers had frozen into statues. They were as lifeless as the doll on the tables before them.

It was the same in every shop. Mr. D went through them all. Even the reindeer in the stables were still. And the elves who stood outside were as motionless as the reindeer—stopped in the midst of whatever they were doing and wherever they were going.

Tears welled up in Mr. D's eyes. He said it was the most dreadful day in history.

The little boy wept. So did the donkey and the crocodile. But the Fabulous Dunklebum said, "What about Santa Claus? Maybe he's not turned to stone."

"But - he'd be the first," protested the little boy. "The Voo-

Santa had never so strange a group as this.

doo man hated him most of all."

"All the same," said the Fabulous Dunklebum, "I think I will go and see."

He waddled off, his long arms dangling and his lights blinking off and on. The others followed, though they were sure there wasn't any hope.

But they were wrong. Because suddenly and for the first time they saw smoke curling up out of the chimney of a little red house that stood alone in a faraway field.

They all saw it at the same time, and they ran as fast as they could across the field and up the steps of the little red house. Mr. D banged with both fists on the door. He shouted, "Who's there? Oh, speak up! Is anyone there?"

The door opened. There stood Santa Claus! He was plump and ruddy-faced. His eyes sparkled and his mouth turned up at the ends. He breathed and he moved. He was very much alive.

"Of course I'm here," he said as calm as you please. "What did you expect?"

The visitors were so stunned with surprise not one of them could find voice to speak. Their mouths worked but no words came.

Santa was used to strange visitors, but he had never seen as strange a group as this. But he thought there was nothing a warm fire and a cup of hot chocolate couldn't cure, so he said, "This seems to be my day for visitors. An unclean one left me a gift during the night. It's sitting on my breakfast table. Come join me while I open it." The visitors came to life. They crowded after Santa into the house. Mr. D, seeing the package on the kitchen table, stammered, "Who brought it to you?"

"I did not see him," said Santa. "I was asleep and he left it inside the door." He picked up the present and tore off the wrapping. In his hands was the Voodoo man's jewel encrusted mirror.

"Don't look!" shouted Mr. D. He tried to snatch the mirror from Santa's hands. "But it's beautiful," said Santa. He held the mirror straight to keep it away from Mr. D. The face of the mirror was turned towards the Fabulous Dunklebum and before the poor monster could help himself he had looked in the mirror and turned to stone.

OSU Mansion Dispute Boils

$300,000 Home For Prexy Debated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The controversy over a proposed $300,000 president's mansion at Ohio State University rambled on Monday with indications the matter may not yet be settled.

Ohio State trustees approved construction of the big house by a 7-1 vote last Thursday, but since then there has been an unfavorable reaction from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Criticism has been strong from other quarters, too, with some officials noting that the Legislature would have to appropriate funds to operate the mansion—something the lawmakers may be hesitant to do.

Trustees decided after putting off action for several months to approve construction of the new residence for University President Novice G. Fawcett with donated funds. The board's newest member, Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy, cast the only dissenting vote.

The governor voiced his "regrets" over the decision in a letter his top aide, John M. McElroy, is sending out in reply to more than two dozen letters and telegrams of protest received by the governor's office.

McElroy described the home as "expensive" and said although only donated funds are to be used "there is widespread belief that tax funds are being employed."

The governor's aide said persons desiring to protest further should address their remarks to university trustee.

The governor until now had stayed out of the controversy but his finance director, Richard L. Krabach had voiced opposition.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D and the passengers on the Zabbazara bus finally reach Santa Land, but the Voodoo man has already arrived and turned the elves to stone.

CHAPTER EIGHT THE TERRIBLE SPELL

"The Voodoo man has been here!" cried the little boy. "He has turned them all to stone!"

"It can't be!" cried Mr. D. He ran into a work shop. It was the doll shop. A dozen elves sat at their work benches. They had hammers and nails and needles and thread in their hands. But the hammers did not hammer and the needles did not sew. The workers had frozen into statues. They were as lifeless as the doll on the tables before them.

It was the same in every shop. Mr. D went through them all. Even the reindeer in the stables were still. And the elves who stood outside were as motionless as the rest—stopped in the midst of whatever they were doing and wherever they were going.

Tears welled up in Mr. D's eyes. He said it was the most dreadful day in history.

The little boy wept. So did the donkey and the crocodile. But the Fabulous Dunklebum said, "What about Santa Claus? Maybe he's not turned to stone."

"But - he'd be the first," protested the little boy. "The Voo-

Santa had never so strange a group as this.

doo man hated him most of all."

"All the same," said the Fabulous Dunklebum, "I think I will go and see."

He waddled off, his long arms dangling and his lights blinking off and on. The others followed, though they were sure there wasn't any hope.

But they were wrong. Because suddenly and for the first time they saw smoke curling up out of the chimney of a little red house that stood alone in a faraway field.

They all saw it at the same time, and they ran as fast as they could across the field and up the steps of the little red house. Mr. D banged with both fists on the door. He shouted, "Who's there? Oh, speak up! Is anyone there?"

The door opened. There stood Santa Claus! He was plump and ruddy-faced. His eyes sparkled and his mouth turned up at the ends. He breathed and he moved. He was very much alive.

"Of course I'm here," he said as calm as you please. "What did you expect?"

The visitors were so stunned with surprise not one of them could find voice to speak. Their mouths worked but no words came.

Santa was used to strange visitors, but he had never seen as strange a group as this. But he thought there was nothing a warm fire and a cup of hot chocolate couldn't cure, so he said, "This seems to be my day for visitors. An uneven one left me a gift during the night. It's sitting on my breakfast table. Come join me while I open it."

The visitors came to life. They crowded after Santa into the house. Mr. D, seeing the package on the kitchen table, stammered, "Who brought it to you?"

"I did not see him," said Santa. "I was asleep and he left it inside the door." He picked up the present and tore off the wrapping. In his hands was the Voodoo man's jewel encrusted mirror.

"Don't look!" shouted Mr. D. He tried to snatch the mirror from Santa's hands. "But it's beautiful," said Santa. He held the mirror straight to keep it away from Mr. D. The face of the mirror was turned towards the Fabulous Dunklebum and before the poor monster could help himself he had looked in the mirror and turned to stone.

Archer Raps Decision in Fullmer Bout

BOSTON (AP) — "We were taken," protested Jimmy Archer Monday night after Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, successfully defended his American middleweight title against Joey Archer.

"One judge (Harry Sundberg) gave my brother only one round," said the older Archer, who now handles his brother. "It was impossible to give just one round to my brother in that fight."

That also was the opinion of many veteran ringside observers who agreed with the vote of referee Jimmy McCarron.

Jimmy Archer said he would protest the decision to the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Fullmer, fifth-ranking middleweight according to the World Boxing Association, retained his regional crown with a split 12-round decision over the second-ranked Archer at Boston Garden. Both fighters weighed in at the limit — 160 pounds.

McCarron voted for Fullmer 119-114 and judge Alexander Scioli gave Fullmer the nod 117-114.

Sundberg gave Archer only the sixth round. Scioli gave Archer the first, the third and the sixth and McCarron gave Archer four rounds.

OU Ball Control Yields Victory over Purdue '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Play for one good shot, Ohio University Coach Jim Snyder ordered. It took two.

The Bobcats froze the basketball for two minutes, playing for the opening to overcome a one-point Purdue lead at Lafayette, Ind.

Finally, with four seconds left, Ken Fowlkes cast one goalward.

It missed.

But Russ Hamilton scored on the rebound, just beating the buzzer, and sagging Midwestern Conference prestige got a lift Monday night with the Bobcats' 74-73 conquest of the Big Ten Boilermakers.

The triumph also put Ohio over .500 at 3-2 for the season and provided Ohio colleges a 5-4 nod in the night's interstate action.

Other winners were Central State 76-52 over Villa Madonna (Ky.), Youngstown 86-62 over Michigan Lutheran, Oberlin 78-38 over Allegheny (Pa.), and Ohio Northern over Carey (Miss.) 70-67.

Bowling Green and Xavier took wallowings in major games, Syracuse socking the Falcons 106-89 and Detroit spearing the Musketeers 105-86, while Marquette lost to Bethany (W. Va.) 89-72 and Franklin of Columbus was Kentucky State's eighth straight victim 107-85.

Intrastate, Otterbein thrashed Denison 66-40 and assumed a cozy spot in the Ohio Conference. The Otters clinched at least a share of the league lead at least until Jan. 8, when they make their next OC start. In the meantime they are 4-0, tied with Wooster (4-0) and Akron (3-0) which collide Wednesday in the Rubber City.

Ohio U. helped its rating as a good shot to repeat as MAC champion as playmakers Mike Hammond and Dave Brown led a balanced attack with 15 and

Warfield Back On Bench Again

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Warfield, the slot end with the often - photographed shoulder, will sit out another National Football League game Sunday when the Cleveland Browns travel to St. Louis.

Warfield suffered a shoulder bruise Sunday in Los Angeles but x-rays taken Monday showed he did not re-injure a collarbone broken last August in an exhibition game.

The leaping receiver from Ohio State has played in only one of the Browns' 13 regular season games but he should be ready for the NFL championship game Jan. 2.

14 points. The Bobcats led 45-39 at the half but Purdue rallied behind Dave Schellhase, who bagged 33 points.

Bowling Green, now 1 - 4, couldn't contain Syracuse' Dave Bing, who connected on 16 of 20 from the field and 6 of 6 at the stripe for 38 points. The Falcons, getting 32 points from 6-foot-8 sophomore Walt Piatkowski, held the Orange even 44-44 the first half.

Central State, with 29 points by Ed Bryant, and Youngstown built their records to 5-0 and 4-0 with twin 24-point margins.

Top Golfers Object to Speed-Up

NEW YORK (AP) — A gold-plated panel of professional golfers, headed by millionaire Arnold Palmer, agreed today they don't want a stop watch put on them while they play their delicate trade.

"It would be ridiculous to put a time limit on the time a fellow can take to make a shot," said Palmer. "It would make a travesty of the game."

Palmer and other members of golf's 1965 All-America discussed tournament golf's major headache — a tendency toward snail's-pace play — at a press conference prior to a dinner honoring the top shot makers picked by Golf Magazine.

With Palmer, cited for short irons; Dave Marr, pitching wedge; Sam Snead, said wedge, and Billy Casper, putter. Jack Nicklaus, named the best driver for the second straight year, missed the session but attended the dinner. Gene Littler, middle irons, was grounded on the West Coast and Gary Player, fairway woods, was unable to make the trip from his home in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Tom Matte Tagged To Start for Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Matte, who hasn't played a full game at quarterback since his collegiate days at Ohio State in 1960, will direct the Baltimore Colts in their do-or-die battle against the Los Angeles Rams Saturday.

Matte, a halfback during five National Football League seasons, takes over as Baltimore's No. 1 quarterback following disabling injuries to John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo.

Middie Coach Chalks His 500th Win

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Chalk up another milestone in the brilliant coaching career of Paul Walker.

When Middletown whipped Colerain Saturday night, it marked the 500th basketball triumph for the genial Middie mentor. That's the most victories ever recorded by a high school cage coach in Ohio.

"The first 500 are always the hardest," Walker quipped after he accepted congratulations on his unprecedented feat.

"I'm tickled to death to reach the mark," Walker said. "I have been blessed with a lot of good athletes."

The 54-year-old Walker, who graduated from Western Kentucky in 1935, has been in high school coaching 31 years, 26 of them in basketball.

Now in his 20th season at Middletown, one of the state's all-time top powers in scholastic basketball, Walker has won 367 and lost 83 at the Middle helm. Over-all, he has an enviable 500-110 record.

Walker managed football and basketball at Western and spent nine years coaching in Kentucky before moving to Portsmouth, Ohio, in 1944.

He switched to Middletown in 1946.

His Middie teams have won five state championships — in 1947, '52, '53, '56 and '57.

Booster Meeting Due Wednesday

An effort to encourage greater membership participation will be a key agenda item when the Circleville High School Booster Club meets 7 p. m. Wednesday at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St.

President Chet Iery said there is an urgent need for more active members. He said meeting attendance usually drops after football season. However, the club conducts projects throughout the school year which needs the membership's assistance, he added.

Iery indicated a new meeting schedule will be discussed at the Wednesday meeting. An objective will be to arrange dates most convenient for members.

Ralph Jordan, football coach at Auburn, got his nickname of "Shug" because, in his youth, he loved to chew on sugarcane.

Walker doesn't even hesitate when asked to name his best

They had everything and finished with a 27-0 record."

Walker is just as quick to single out Lucas as his best player. "He has to be the greatest schoolboy basketball player Ohio has ever had," Walker said.

The Middies, under Walker's guidance, still hold the longest high school winning streak in the nation. The 1956, '57 and '58 squads rolled up a 76 - game skien before losing in the semifinals of the state tournament to Columbus North, 63-62.

What next for the Middletown legend?

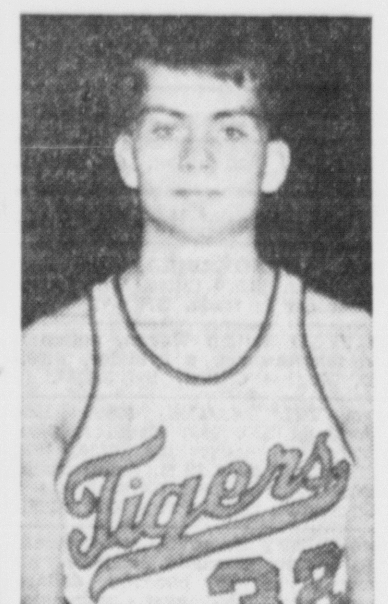

"I'd sure like to nail down another championship," Walker admits. And he adds that this year's team, now 5-0, is big, playing good ball and improving.

"You have to be ambitious and hungry to win and this club has the ingredients," Walker said.

Circleville Basketball Team Outscored by 110 Points

The Circleville High School Tigers this year in compiling a 1-4 record have scored 287 points while allowing opponents to notch 377.

In the five games played, the Tigers' best performance came against Greenfield McClain when they scored 92 points and connected on better than 50 per cent of their field goal attempts.

The poorest performance, as far as shooting percentage is concerned, came Saturday against Reynoldsburg. In that game, CHS converted less than 24 per cent of its field goal tries and tallied only 34 markers.

As a team, the Tigers have scored an even 100 baskets from the field, while shooting a total of 275 times for a .363 shooting average, according to statistics compiled by The Herald.

LEADING the Tigers in this department is Danny Speakman. He has played in three games, shot 25 times and hit 12 for a .480 average. Speakman has a total of 29 points.

The leading scorer for Circleville is Tim Stonerock, who has 83 points in the five games. He has shot 74 times and hit 29 for .392 per cent from the field.

Jim Diltz has a total of 72 points. He has converted 45.7 per cent of his field goal tries, sinking 27 of 59 shots.

Texas Grid Star OKs Atlanta Pact

DALLAS (AP) — Tommy Nobis, the All-America linebacker of the University of Texas, will sign a contract with the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League today, The Associated Press has learned.

Nobis has been negotiating with both the Atlanta Falcons and the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, both of whom made him their No. 1 draft choice.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed but it is expected to be about $225,000. Houston has indicated it is offering $250,000 and the Atlanta bid is reportedly $225,000, but Nobis, it was learned, will take the Atlanta offer because of prestige, player pensions, etc.

McDowell Crowned As Top AL Pitcher

BOSTON (AP) — Fireballing left-hander Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians won the American League earned run title in 1965, the official averages disclosed today.

McDowell, had a 2.18 ERA. The 23-year-old hurler yielded 66 earned runs in 273 innings while posting a 17-11 won-lost record. McDowell also paced the circuit in strikeouts with 325, bases on balls, 132, and wild pitches, 17.

OU Ball Control Yields Victory over Purdue '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Play for one good shot, Ohio University Coach Jim Snyder ordered. It took two.

The Bobcats froze the basketball for two minutes, playing for the opening to overcome a one-point Purdue lead at Lafayette, Ind.

Finally, with four seconds left, Ken Fowlkes cast one goalward.

It missed. But Russ Hamilton scored on the rebound, just beating the buzzer, and sagging Mid-American Conference prestige got a lift Monday night with the Bobcats' 74-73 conquest of the Big Ten Boilermakers.

The triumph also put Ohio U. over .500 at 3-2 for the season and provided Ohio colleges a 5-4 nod in the night's interstate action.

Other winners were Central State 76-52 over Villa Madonna (Ky.), Youngstown 86-62 over Michigan Lutheran, Oberlin 78-38 over Allegheny (Pa.) and Ohio Northern over Carey (Miss.) 70-67.

Bowling Green and Xavier took wallopings in major games, Syracuse socking the Falcons 106-89 and Detroit spearing the Musketeers 105-86, while Marietta lost to Bethany (W. Va.) 89-72 and Franklin of Columbus was Kentucky State's eighth straight victim 107-85.

Intrastate, Otterbein trounced Denison 66-40 and assumed a cozy spot in the Ohio Conference. The Otters clinched at least a share of the league lead at least until Jan. 8, when they make their next OC start. In the meantime they are 4-0, tied with Wooster (4-0) and Akron (3-0) which collide Wednesday in the Rubber City.

Ohio U. helped its rating as a good shot to repeat as MAC champion as playmakers Mike Hammond and Dave Brown led a balanced attack with 15 and 14 points. The Bobcats led 45-39 at the half but Purdue rallied behind Dave Schellhase, who bagged 33 points.

Bowling Green, now 1 - 4, couldn't contain Syracuse' Dave Bing, who connected on 16 of 20 from the field and 6 of 6 at the stripe for 38 points. The Falcons, getting 32 points from 6-foot-8 sophomore Walt Piatkowski, held the Orange even 44-44 the first half.

Central State, with 29 points by Ed Bryant, and Youngstown built their records to 5-0 and 4-0 with twin 24-point margins.

Top Golfers Object to Speed-Up

NEW YORK (AP) — A gold-plated panel of professional golfers, headed by millionaire Arnold Palmer, agreed today they don't want a stop watch put on them while they play their delicate trade.

"It would be ridiculous to put a time limit on the time a fellow can take to make a shot," said Palmer. "It would make a travesty of the game."

Palmer and other members of golf's 1965 All-America discussed tournament golf's major headache — a tendency toward snail-space play — at a press conference prior to a dinner honoring the top shot makers picked by Golf Magazine.

With Palmer, cited for long irons, were Tony Lema, short irons; Dave Marr, pitching wedge; Sam Snead, sand wedge, and Billy Casper, putter. Jack Nicklaus, named the best driver for the second straight year, missed the session but attended the dinner. Gene Littler, middle irons, was grounded on the West Coast and Gary Player, fairway woods, was unable to make the trip from his home in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Tom Matte Tagged To Start for Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Matte, who hasn't played a full game at quarterback since his collegiate days at Ohio State in 1960, will direct the Baltimore Colts in their do-or-die battle against the Los Angeles Rams Saturday.

Matte, a halfback during five National Football League seasons, takes over as Baltimore's No. 1 quarterback following disabling injuries to John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo.

Middie Coach Chalks His 500th Win

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Chalk up another milestone in the brilliant coaching career of Paul Walker.

When Middletown whipped Colerain Saturday night, it marked the 500th basketball triumph for the genial Middie mentor. That's the most victories ever recorded by a high school cage coach in Ohio.

"The first 500 are always the hardest," Walker quipped after he accepted congratulations on his unprecedented feat.

"I'm tickled to death to reach the mark," Walker said. "I have been blessed with a lot of good athletes."

The 54-year-old Walker, who graduated from Western Kentucky in 1935, has been in high school coaching 31 years, 26 of them in basketball.

Now in his 20th season at Middletown, one of the state's all-time top powers in scholastic basketball, Walker has won 367 and lost 83 at the Middie helm. Over-all, he has an enviable 500-110 record.

Walker played football and basketball at Western and spent nine years coaching in Kentucky before moving to Portsmouth, Ohio, in 1944.

He switched to Middletown in 1946.

His Middie teams have won five state championships — in 1947, '52, '53, '56 and '57.

Race in NFL
Is Tightened

But Packer Win
To Firm Standings

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes a math major to figure out all the permutations and combinations in the National Football League's Western race, but Green Bay can make it simple by winning Sunday at San Francisco.

Baltimore also can win it outright if it can beat or tie the Los Angeles Saturday and Green Bay loses on Sunday.

The only chance for Chicago to get into a tie situation is for the top two teams to lose.

Here are the tie possibilities:

(A)
Green Bay loses 10-4
Chicago wins 10-4
Baltimore loses

(B)
Green Bay ties 10-3-1
Baltimore wins 10-3-1

The championship game will be played in the home park of the Western champion Jan. 2 with the Cleveland Browns as the visitors and defending champions.

The tight second-place races in both conferences heighten interest in the Playoff Bowl at Miami, Jan. 9. Each player on a winning team in the Miami game gets $1,200 and each loser $500. In addition, each second-place team member will get about $1,000 as his cut of the championship game.

The New York Giants-Dallas game Sunday at Yankee Stadium will decide the Eastern second-place team. The Giants, leading by a game, can assure themselves of a trip to the Orange Bowl by beating or tying the Cowboys. If Dallas whips the Giants, the Cowboys will go on the strength of two victories over New York.

In the West, either Baltimore or Green Bay is the likely runner-up. Chicago could get in if it ties with either team because the Bears never have played in the Miami game.

Gillespie Wants Back
On Education Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has under consideration a request from Chester K. Gillespie, Cleveland Negro, for reappointment to the State Board of Education. Gillespie left a vacancy on the board when he resigned to become chief justice of Cleveland's Municipal Court.

Gillespie was ruled off the ballot while seeking re-election as municipal judge. He evoked ire in some State Board of Education colleagues when he protested to President Johnson that the Ohio Department of Education discriminated in hiring. He could get his board seat back by the end of the week, the governor's office hinted.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At a time when men are fighting, when international bullies are abroad in the world and when self-doubt is endemic, ABC came up with a heartening and reassuring television program. "In Search of Man" Monday night was an hour's tribute to the good guys, to men of good will, the builders, the creators and the believers.

True, it was a pretty large assignment for only 60 minutes and sometimes it seemed the show was racing to get everything in as we were zipped from prehistoric cave drawings to men walking in space.

The narration by Van Heflin was skillfully written but with a slight tendency to get high of tranquility and good feeling. As the program insisted, mankind may have its faults, but we're not all bad.

NBC's Huntley-Brinkley news show Monday night produced a startling film shot in a Viet Nam field hospital while a badly wounded Marine colonel was being given first aid and, between gasps of pain, described the action in which he had been hurt.

The network censors wisely permitted the colonel's strong language to remain on the sound track. It vividly illustrated the dreadful aspects of that faraway war, further underlined when Chet Huntley said the colonel's leg had been amputated.

On the warm and happy side was Andy Williams' Christmas program, also on NBC. For the fourth year, Williams was joined by his three brothers for

Rutgers '5' Ends
13-Year Famine
With Upset Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Bradley's smiling face still greets Princeton fans everytime they go to watch their beloved Tigers play. The only thing is once they get past the ticket taker, there's no more Bradley and it certainly makes a difference. Just ask Rutgers.

Bradley, of course, is the two-time All-American and Player of the Year who led the Cinderella Ivy League representatives into the semifinals of the National Collegiate playoffs last season.

The big guy was a senior though and, like all good things, his career came to an end. But Princeton, being somewhat sentimental, kept his picture plastered on tickets for this season's games. It's a pleasant reminder of things past.

Things past now include a 13-year winning streak against arch-rival Rutgers which ended Monday night when the Scarlet sprung a 68-66 upset.

It was the biggest surprise on a strange night that had such odd goings-on as an Arkansas player, averaging just eight points per game, breaking a 25-year-old scoring record as the Porks whipped Centenary 90-61, and a Canisius guard outscoring the entire Western Ontario squad as the Golden Griffins won 109-33.

Bob Lloyd, a 6-foot-1 junior, was the chief architect of Rutgers' shocker against Princeton. He scored 30 points and engineered the late-game slowdown that held the Tigers off. Princeton combatted the semi-freeze with a full-court press and Lloyd converted four foul shots in the final four minutes that proved decisive.

Ricky Sugg, off to a slow start in Arkansas' first three games and averaging just eight points per game, ran wild against Centenary, scoring 41 points and smashing a 25-year-old school record.

Sugg, who led the Porks with a 16.5 average last season, hit on 11 of 12 shots in the first half, almost all of them from the outside. He was perfect from the foul line with 13 for 13.

John Morrison played only 18 minutes for Canisius but scored 34 points — one more than the entire Western Ontario squad managed in 40 minutes against the Golden Griffins.

While things were out of kilter elsewhere, Vanderbilt's Clyde Lee and Boston College's John Austin performed routinely.

Lee, who's 6-9½, scored 32 points and pulled down 20 rebounds leading fourth-ranked Vanderbilt through a 102-82 romp against Wake Forest.

Austin, a flashy 6-footer considered by many to be the best small man in the East, scored 27 points on 11 for 17 from the floor and 5-for-5 from the free throw line as Boston College ripped St. Mary's of California 95-72.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Rhode Island College has dedicated a $692,000 dormitory to the memory of the late Miss Mary A. Weber, a member of the school's faculty for 28 years. Miss Weber, who died last April, made an unrestricted bequest in her will to the college of $125,000, the largest ever received by the institution.

Ohio Flier Is Bird Dog For Bombers in Viet Nam

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—Ronald F. Miller is a bird dog for bombs.

Miller, a 25-year-old Air Force captain from Liberty Center, Ohio, flies a tiny O-1E Bird Dog airplane spotting Viet Cong targets for fighter-bombers.

He is one of the hardy band of forward air controllers who duck among trees and hills looking for enemy installation or troop concentrations to be blasted by bombs and napalm.

In three months with the 21st Tactical Air Support Squadron at Pleiku he has flown more than 160 missions.

Air Force reporter M. Sgt. S. J. Christaldi rode with Miller on a recent mission to an area where a Viet Cong buildup was reported.

Miller headed for a river winding through dense jungle. He flew so low, Christaldi reported, "we could look between tree trunks for the enemy."

Four Navy Crusader jets overhead waited for a call to action.

"Your target is the river bank at the point where the little stream enters the river," Miller radioed. "I will mark it with smoke."

He put the plane into a dive and fired a smoke rocket to the target, Christaldi reported. Then the Crusaders roared to the attack, dropping bombs and firing rockets into the jungle. After they left, Miller dove the plane to inspect damage.

Craters were visible, but no Viet Cong were seen. A second strike was called for, this time by Air Force Skyraider.

A second inspection also failed to turn up signs of Viet Cong.

"It happens like this sometimes," Miller explained. "But when special forces patrols go out, they often find VC bodies scattered among the trees."

Cook Rehired To Manage County Fair

Charles Gerhardt
Named Bookkeeper
By Agriculture Unit

William L. Cook, 131 Park Place, was rehired as manager of the Pickaway County Fair last night by the Agriculture Society during the organization's annual meeting.

Cook, who had submitted his resignation after the 1965 County Fair as manager and secretary, reapplied for the position of manager. He was one of 12 applicants considered by the fair board screening committee.

The position of secretary-treasurer and bookkeeper was given to Charles Gerhardt, 640 Garden Parkway, an assistant cashier at the Second National Bank.

Gerhardt's salary for the parttime position was set at $480 by the board. He will take over duties formerly handled by Cook.

COOK, who had been receiving $5,000 a year for his combined duties as manager-secretary, was reemployed at a salary of $4,500.

The financial report for the year, given by Cook during the meeting, showed there were outstanding accounts of $13,228.28 remaining to be paid.

This included $6,400 in Junior Fair premiums and $2,600 in other fair premiums. Other outstanding debts, which total $4,228.28, are:

Kochheiser Hardware, $431.47; Fitzpatrick Printery, $271.55; Goeller's Paint Store, $52.75; Sturm and Dillard Co., $901.09; Paul Brown Insurance, $169.38; Regalia Manufacturing Co., $1,076.28; Numan Sign Co., $150; O'Neil Tent Co., $853.50; water bill, $322.20.

Total receipts for the year are $51,132.27 according to the report.

Of this total, $19,412.62 came from the County and $6,500 was in the form of state aid. Another big item of income was barn rentals, which totaled $5,447.50.

Gate receipts during the Fair totaled $2,806 for 1965. Income from the grandstand was $2,527.75.

Expenses paid during the year totaled $50,270 and as of Nov. 30, 1965, there was a balance of $862.27 in the treasury, according to Cook's report.

Solon Asks Probe of Ohio Role in Poverty Program

CLEVELAND (AP)—A congressional investigation into Ohio's war on poverty has been requested by Congressman-at-Large Robert E. Sweeney, D-Ohio.

Announcing this Monday, Sweeney said Rep. Hugh Carey, D-N.Y., chairman of a subcommittee on the poverty program, has expressed an interest in an investigation of the Ohio program. The subcommittee will be in Cleveland Jan. 5-6 to study the program here.

Sweeney's announcement followed a verbal attack on the congressman by Donald Beatty, deputy director of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity. Beatty assailed Sweeney for remarks in Ohio newspapers last week attributed to the congressman, saying Sweeney is "either misinformed, or grossly ignorant of the facts" about the operation of the Ohio office.

"Beatty—whatever he is—is another highly paid Republican political type trying to justify his position on the payroll," Sweeney said at his office here.

"Patronage in the poverty office in Columbus, is a Republican boondoggle," he added.

"If all the state office can point to is a migrant rest center in Henry County, then it should close its front door."

Rhodes issued a statement today that was, in effect, a rebuttal to Sweeney's charges. The governor said a high-ranking antipovetry program official has praised Ohio's progress.

According to Rhodes, Neighborhood Youth Corps Director

Jack Howard wrote to Albert G. Giles, director of the Ohio Office of Opportunity, and said, "Ohio has made an enviable record of operation of Neighborhood Youth Corps projects."

Giles has assured Rhodes that all possible steps are being taken to see that Ohio take advantage of all antipovetry program, the governor said.

Mountains are composed largely of rocks made up of silicon and aluminum compounds.

Cook Rehired To Manage County Fair

Charles Gerhardt
Named Bookkeeper
By Agriculture Unit

William L. Cook, 131 Park Place, was rehired as manager of the Pickaway County Fair last night by the Agriculture Society during the organization's annual meeting.

Cook, who had submitted his resignation after the 1965 County Fair as manager and secretary, reapplied for the position of manager. He was one of 12 applicants considered by the fair board screening committee.

The position of secretary-treasurer and bookkeeper was given to Charles Gerhardt, 640 Garden Parkway, an assistant cashier at the Second National Bank.

Gerhardt's salary for the parttime position was set at $480 by the board. He will take over duties formerly handled by Cook.

COOK, who had been receiving $5,000 a year for his combined duties as manager-secretary, was reemployed at a salary of $4,500.

The financial report for the year, given by Cook during the meeting, showed there were outstanding accounts of $13,228.28 remaining to be paid.

This included $6,400 in Junior Fair premiums and $2,600 in other fair premiums. Other outstanding debts, which total $4,228.28, are:

Kochheiser Hardware, $431.47; Fitzpatrick Printery, $271.55; Goeller's Paint Store, $52.75; Sturm and Dillard Co., $901.09; Paul Brown Insurance, $169.38; Regalia Manufacturing Co., $1,076.28; Numan Sign Co., $150; O'Neill Tent Co., $853.50; water bill, $322.20.

Total receipts for the year are $51,132.27 according to the report.

Of this total, $19,412.62 came from the County and $6,500 was in the form of state aid. Another big item of income was barn rentals, which totaled $5,447.50.

Gate receipts during the Fair totaled $2,806 for 1965. Income from the grandstand was $2,527.75.

Expenses paid during the year totaled $50,270 and as of Nov. 30, 1965, there was a balance of $862.27 in the treasury, according to Cook's report.

Solon Asks Probe of Ohio Role in Poverty Program

CLEVELAND (AP) — A congressional investigation into Ohio's war on poverty has been requested by Congressman-at-Large Robert E. Sweeney, D-Ohio.

Announcing this Monday, Sweeney said Rep. Hugh Carey, D-N.Y., chairman of a subcommittee on the poverty program, has expressed an interest in an investigation of the Ohio program. The subcommittee will be in Cleveland Jan. 5-6 to study the program here.

Sweeney's announcement followed a verbal attack on the congressman by Donald Beatty, deputy director of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity. Beatty assailed Sweeney for remarks in Ohio newspapers last week attributed to the congressman, saying Sweeney is "either misinformed, or grossly ignorant of the facts" about the operation of the Ohio office.

"Beatty—whoever he is—is another highly paid Republican political type trying to justify his position on the payroll," Sweeney said at his office here. "Patronage in the poverty office in Columbus, is a Republican boondoggle," he added. "If all the state office can point to is a migrant rest center in Henry County, then it should close its front door."

Rhodes issued a statement today that was, in effect, a rebuttal to Sweeney's charges. The governor said a high-ranking antipoverty program official has praised Ohio's progress.

According to Rhodes, Neighborhood Youth Corps Director

Jack Howard wrote to Albert G. Giles, director of the Ohio Office of Opportunity, and said, "Ohio has made an enviable record of operation of Neighborhood Youth Corps projects."

Giles has assured Rhodes that all possible steps are being taken to see that Ohio take advantage of all antipoverty program, the governor said.

Decorations Solicited For Needy

The Circleville Council of Church Women is conducting a drive for Christmas decorations and ornaments to be distributed to local needy families.

A spokesman for the group said many local families are without the means of expressing their joy during the holiday season by decorating a tree or their homes.

Decorations collected will be distributed on a first-come first-serve basis. They will be given to those who request them between 1 and 3 p. m. on Saturday.

Ornaments and decorations, other than electric, may be taken to the lobby of the Masonic Temple from 11:30 to 12:30 Saturday.

The donations will be sorted and distributed later in the day. Further information concerning the project may be obtained by calling Mrs. David Whaley at GR 4-2623 or Mrs. M. D. Lorentz at GR 4-9064.

Laceration Treated

Terry Reed, 17, Route 4, received emergency care in Berger Hospital yesterday after he lacerated his forehead at the Sinclair Station, N. Court St. He was released following treatment.

Ministerial Association Will Meet Tomorrow

The Pickaway County Ministerial Assn. will meet 9 a. m. tomorrow at Pickaway Arms, E. Mound St.

Beverage and rolls will be served, according to the president, Rev. Robert A. Wiley. All ministers in the area are urged to attend.

Ohio Flier Is Bird Dog For Bombers in Viet Nam

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—Ronald F. Miller is a bird dog for bombs.

Miller, a 25-year-old Air Force captain from Liberty Center, Ohio, flies a tiny O-1E Bird Dog airplane spotting Viet Cong targets for fighter-bombers.

He is one of the hardy band of forward air controllers who duck among trees and hills looking for enemy installation or troop concentrations to be blasted by bombs and napalm.

In three months with the 21st Tactical Air Support Squadron at Pleiku he has flown more than 160 missions.

Air Force reporter M. Sgt. S. J. Christaldi rode with Miller on a recent mission to an area where a Viet Cong buildup was reported.

Miller headed for a river winding through dense jungle. He flew so low, Christaldi reported, "we could look between tree trunks for the enemy."

Four Navy Crusader jets overhead waited for a call to action.

"Your target is the river bank at the point where the little stream enters the river," Miller radioed. "I will mark it with smoke."

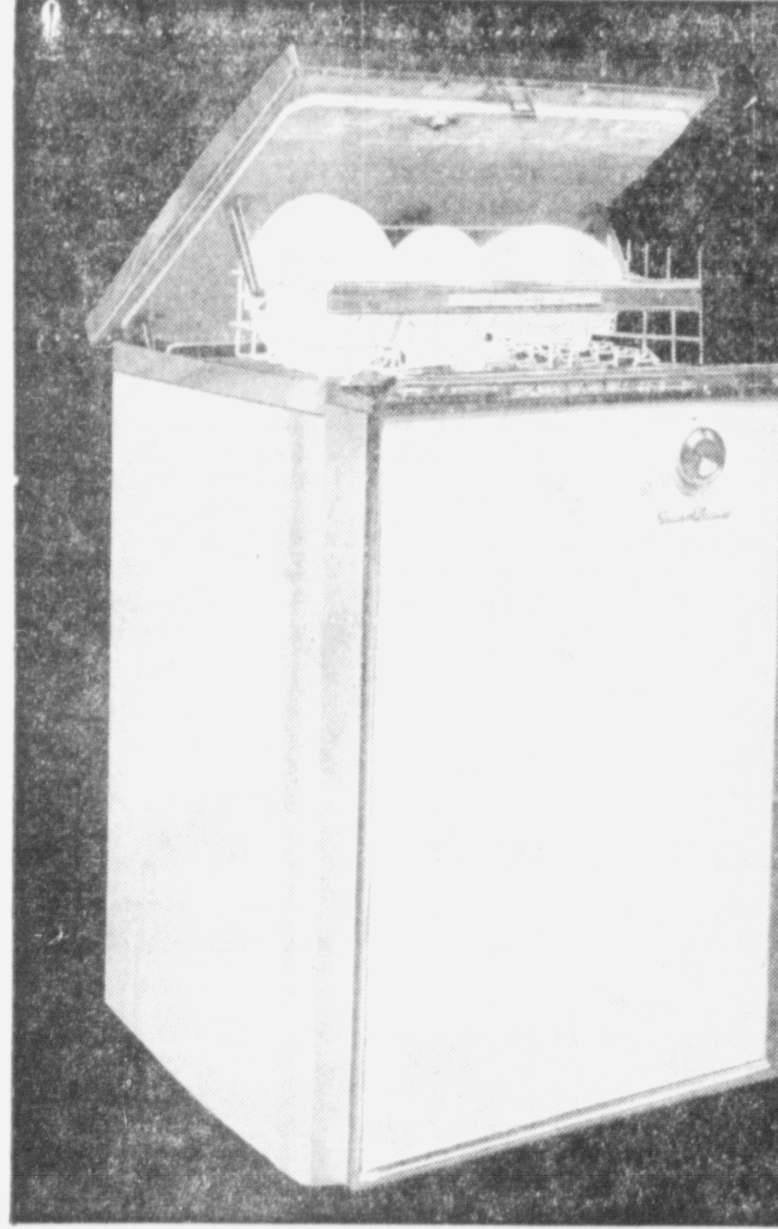

He put the plane into a dive and fired a smoke rocket to the target, Christaldi reported. Then the Crusaders roared to the attack, dropping bombs and firing rockets into the jungle.

After they left, Miller dove

the plane to inspect damage.

Craters were visible, but no Viet Cong were seen. A second strike was called for, this time by Air Force Skyraider.

A second inspection also failed to turn up signs of Viet Cong. "It happens like this sometimes," Miller explained. "But when special forces patrols go out, they often find VC bodies scattered among the trees."
